

Get to the airport early enough so your innards will be ok when it's time to board. On a short flight, you won't have to visit the teeny airplane john. Also, during a longer flight, you won't need to hop up and down in the aisle while six people wait in line ahead of you at the onboard toilet.