

Your travel4seniors.com editor captures this bucolic scene on the streets of the South Korean capital city. The intensity of the local chess-type of board game seems to attract both live and stone kibitzers.