

Just opened in downtown Philly near Independence Hall is a permanent exhibition dedicated to the nation's fight for freedom.

Among the displays, including historic documents and artifacts, are special sections. They're entitled A New Nation, A Revolutionary War, Road to Independence and The Darkest Hour. For admission fees, scheduled programs and more info, go to www.amrevmuseum.org