

Way, way up on the 102nd floor Observatory, visitors now have more spectacular views of the city, rivers and surrounding landscape from the height of 1,250 feet.

The small windows and walls have been replaced by windows with tall floor-to-ceiling glass panes for wide, unobstructed viewing. www.cnn.com/travel/article/empire-state-building-observatory-new-york