

In your travels through airports and other terminals over the Memorial Day weekend, you'll see many servicemen and women. They'll be on their way home for the holiday or returning to duty.

Take a moment to thank at least one of them for what they're doing to keep you and other citizens free and safe. You'll make them feel appreciated, and you'll go on your way knowing you've done something positive to make their lives just a little bit better.

Additionally, if you happen to have friends and relatives who've served in the Armed Forces, use the Memorial Day theme to thank those veterans for their services in past years.