

If your travels take you to the Los Angeles area, consider spending a day on the venerable old luxury cruise ship. Because she was used as a troop ship during World War II, the restoration of her included remounting her anti-aircraft guns.

On a recent tour, your travel4seniors.com editor had some nostalgic moments to relive his WWII experiences as a member of a Navy anti-aircraft crew. For events, visit schedules and more info, go to www.queenmary.com
