

Tired of just hanging around and taking selfies in front of the Eiffel Tower and Trevi Fountain? Consider spending your next trip helping others in need of your experience and skills in teaching, construction and other services. IVHQ offers meaningful volunteer experiences around the world.

Their programs involve over 40 destinations in Africa, Asia, the Americas, Europe and the Pacific. Before you make the new plans to travel the world, check current people-helping schedules at www.volunteerhq.org