

Your travel4seniors.com editor recently visited the Sunshine State for a family celebration. One day at the pool of our leased Airbnb house, this friendly five-foot-long, ring-tailed, spike-backed critter came ambling by to pose for a portrait. Sometimes called a water dragon, it's official name is Lepidosauria Iguana.